The 16th World Congress® of the International Association of Institutes of Navigation (IAIN) will be hosted by the Japan Institute of Navigation (JIN).

It will be held from November 28 to December 1 at the world-class Makuhari Messe in Chiba, Japan.

Since 1976 the IAIN World Congress has been held in a different region every three years to discuss technical navigation issues.

A scientific programme will address all subspecialties and related interests in navigation.

Makuhari New City centres around Makuhari Messe, one of Japan's world class convention facilities, and spreads out with offices, academic facilities, housing, parks, shopping, and entertainment facilities. It is a city of diverse potential that sees many people from all over Japan and the world every day. Around the skyscrapers, there are the Japanese gardens of Mihama-en and Makuhari Kaihin-koen Park along Makuhari Beach. Walking along the promenade will offer a chance to feel the sun, sea breeze and nature in Tokyo bay area.
