

New eMaritime Group website and mobile App launched

The New eMaritime Group has been launched, the world's first single website and app bringing together all maritime discounts under one website and mobile app. This was announced on 7 April by IAIN Corresponding Member ECDIS Ltd.

The website has been three years in the making. This is reflected in its diversity and sheer range of choices: from cost-effective online training to heavily discounted simulators and MCA approved STCW courses. Then there are online only distribution of cheap S57 ENC charts and a free social network for seafarers offering hundreds of jobs, regulations, and the latest breaking news.

The group website also publishes new videos, as well as relevant articles, press releases and white papers.

For more information readers are invited to visit www.eMaritimeGroup.com