

eMaritime Group Announce ECDIS 4.0 Conference

7 July 2017

In three months will your ECDIS still be legal?

Corporate Member of IAIN eMaritime Group have announced a one day conference to help the industry better understand the transition to the new IHO ECDIS S52 4.0. They ask Will your ECDIS be legal from 31 August?

They invite the industry to meet the manufacturers, express your concerns and opinions and get the answers.

Mark Broster, eMaritime Group Managing Director said: ‘We have spoken to many of our shipping company clients over the last year about the ECDIS 4.0 upgrade, and listened to their concerns. There seems to be a general confusion and in some cases panic about the changes in August. So we created this one day conference to help clear up these issues and better informing company representatives to allow a smooth transition.’

The conference is free of charge and will be held at eMaritime Group's headquarters near Southampton on 7 July*. The main aim of the day is to inform those who are involved in their company's ECDIS systems to learn more about why the change is taking place, what the changes are and how to action the required changes.

There will be representatives from some of the leading ECDIS manufacturers on-hand to answer any questions, as well as speakers from hydrographics, navigation and ECDIS technicians.

If your company representative wishes to attend or want more information they are advised to visit: www.eMaritimeGroup.com and select ‘eMaritime Events’.
