

IMO HQ open to the public

London Open House Weekend 22 / 23 September 2018

As part of the continuing celebrations of IMO's 70th anniversary, the organization we will be opening its HQ to the public within the framework of the annual London Open House Weekend initiative.

This exciting event, a first for IMO, will take place on Saturday 22 and Sunday 23 September 2018 from 1100 to 1600, and will give the public a rare opportunity to visit the building (see illustrations) and learn about the role and importance of IMO.

In this regard staff at IMO would appreciate it if readers could help to spread the word by forwarding the following link to friends and colleagues:
