

e-Navigation Underway 2019 International

News has been received from IALA and the Danish Maritime Authority that the ninth in the series of e-Navigation Underway International Conferences will be held from 6 to 8 February 2019 and focus on the implementation of e-Navigation solutions. This event brings together international e-Navigation experts from around the world.

The theme for next year's event will be: Paving the Way for a Digital Maritime World.

For digitalization of e-Navigation the effects of the rapid development in technology that has taken place over the past eight years are beginning to be appreciated. The theme will show the benefits and barriers where new technology is implemented. Here the aim is to bring together different stakeholders from the maritime world to share their perspectives and discuss questions such as:

- What are the benefits and barriers for first movers?
- What is required from e-Navigation solutions to prepare for a future with autonomous and smart shipping?
- The need for new and revised regulations and standards when implementing e-Navigation initiatives.

Abstracts welcome

The organisers inform that abstracts are now welcome and any topic relevant to e-Navigation will be considered but potential speakers are urged to aim for topics that add a perspective on some of the questions raised above.

For more information

More information on the venue will be announced in due course.
